

Danella Debel

Associate

Ms. Debel is a seasoned public affairs strategist with over a decade of experience at the highest levels of California state government. She has played a key role in communicating complex public policy for both Governor Gavin Newsom and Governor Edmund G. Brown Jr.

Over twelve years in the Governor's Office, Ms. Debel's portfolio spanned climate, natural resources, water management, and other critical state-wide issues. Most recently, she served as an Assistant Director of Public Affairs in the Office of Governor Newsom, where she was instrumental in driving cross-agency coordination and shaping strategic communications and media engagement on priority policy initiatives. She also supported the gubernatorial transition and was deeply involved in pandemic-era press operations. Under Governor Brown, Ms. Debel served as an Assistant Press Secretary, supporting rapid response operations, policy rollouts, and the judicial appointments process.

Ms. Debel holds a Bachelor of Arts in the History of Science, with a secondary concentration in Government, from Harvard University.
